

Wicklewood Weekly

26th June, 2026

On Wednesday and Thursday, our gardening club, choir, drummers and children from Year 5 and 6 visited and performed at the Royal Norfolk Show.

We performed on the Carnival Stage as well as displaying our garden which was designed to fit the theme of the Commonwealth. Our garden was awarded silver by the judges at the show!

Despite the weather being very warm, our children were amazing representatives of our school, as well as enjoying many ice creams!

Thank you for your support this week while we all managed teaching and learning in very challenging circumstances because of the heat. Hopefully next week will return to more normal temperatures!

Pastoral

Thank you for your responses in relation to the parent workshop at the start of next academic year. It is likely, based on feedback that the workshop will take place in a morning after drop off. Once we have a date we will send more information to you.

Our Pupil Voice this week has been around Sports Day to inform planning for next year.

It appears that the children were still huge fans of the colour run, every year group mentioned how much they enjoyed it! Thanks to our wonderful friends team for your organisation around this.

The children provided us with some feedback about the space hoppers so new ones will be needed next year.

Ethan in year 3 suggests we incorporate a paper aeroplane race next year.....we shall see!

Understanding the Heat Effect

Have you noticed your child being more argumentative or easily frustrated during warm spells? You are not imagining it! Scientific research shows that when children overheat, their brains divert energy away from emotional regulation and self-control just to keep the body cool. Combined with heat-disrupted sleep, even the calmest children can quickly become overwhelmed.

At home, you can easily de-escalate these moments by cooling the body to calm the mind. If an argument starts, pause and offer a cold drink, an ice lolly, or a damp cloth for the back of their neck. Stick to loose, breathable cotton clothing around the house.

You can also protect their sleep by keeping bedroom curtains closed all day and running a fan before bedtime. Keeping them hydrated with regular sips of water throughout the day will help keep both their temperature and tempers balanced.

Every Day Matters

It is a statutory requirement for children to attend school every day.

This week's winners are Jay Class with 97.5%!
