

Easter Holidays Fortnight - 31.3.23

English and Maths

"First and foremost, please keep reading and practising your multiplication/division facts daily. "

For over the holidays, I have put together 10-day reading, writing and maths packs for the children to work through. These packs are based around key areas that they might need more practice in. The packs will be coming home with your child on Friday.

Below there are is a review sheet that can be filled in after completing the holiday packs. This is helpful because the children can ask those important questions which will help put them at ease through what could be quite a tough week emotionally for some.

Parents - ADDITIONAL SATs ACTIVITIES (MATHS):

I have created accounts for all the children on Maths.co.uk as this is always commonly the trickiest of the three SATs areas. Your child should have brought a letter home with their specific login details and link to the site.

It means your child can access mini tests on specific areas of maths online. I've started it off by assigning the arithmetic test to all the children.

Spellings

This week you learnt about words containing unstressed vowels. There is a set of ten words to learn over the holidays where vowels are unstressed and therefore are commonly missed.

company	definitely
desperate	environment
explanatory	jewellery
poisonous	reference
secretary	temperature

Finally, I want to wish you all a very Happy Easter. Make sure you have lots of rest and enjoy the outdoors as much as possible. As promised, I will try and put a daily gallery/blog of Mrs Bush and myself on our travels in The Outer Hebrides on our class page (toggle left). Lots of you wanted to see photographs of the beaches and Highland cows so I will do my best!

Perhaps if any of you are going on holiday, you could show some of your photographs in the first week back. It would be nice to share :-)
